Friday, November 12 Dingle Peninsula Tour & Tralee

Today discover the beauties of the Dingle Peninsula, made famous by David Lean's movie, "Ryans's Daughter". Reaching out from Tralee like a thumb plunging into the Atlantic, Dingle Peninsula is Kerry's "other peninsula" after the Ring of Kerry. Dingle is less than 40 miles long, but it sometimes seems much larger because there is so much to do and see. Dingle is rich in seacoast vistas and mountain passes. It is rimmed by water on three sides; the Atlantic, Tralee Bay and Dingle Bay. The western tip of Dingle is also home to the West Kerry Gaeltacht where the Irish language is spoken in everyday communications. Native Irish traditions, folklore, crafts and music flourish throughout. There will be frequent stops at strategic locations to admire the views and take photos. Then travel to the town of Tralee where you will have free time to explore on your own. Return to Dingle for a free evening.
